

Your Third Space

Creating a Clear Pathway to Independence for Youth

Who We Are

Team C5

Ghada Ahmed

Faculty of Engineering
(uOttawa)

Wynter Farrell

Faculty of Environmental and Urban Change (YorkU)

Mustafa Faqiry

Faculty of Liberal Arts and Professional
Studies (YorkU)

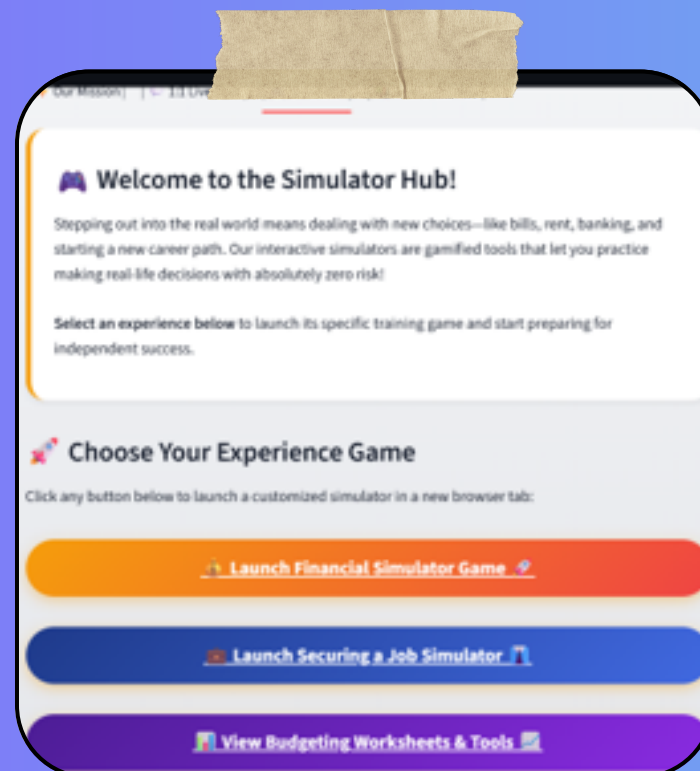

Insha Waseem

Lassonde School
of Engineering
(YorkU)

The Problem

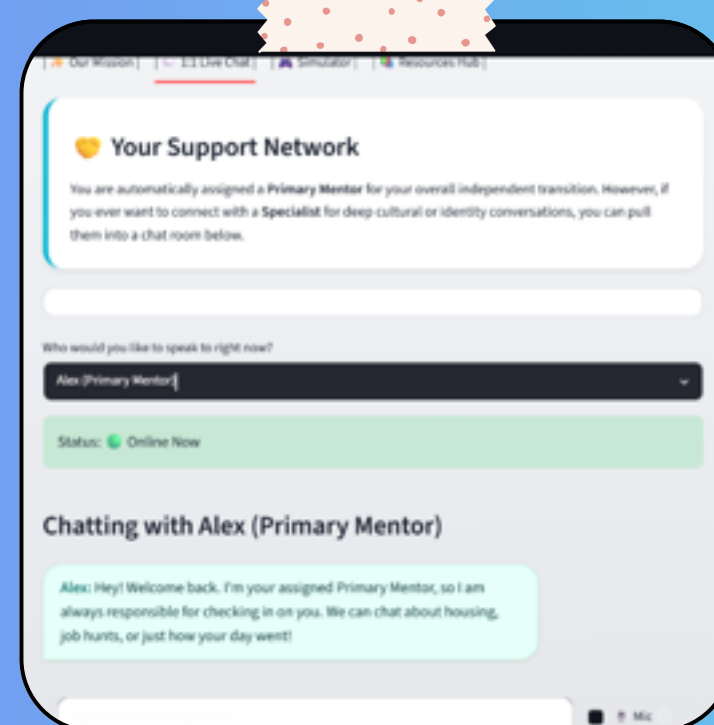

- Many youth (ages 16–26) transitioning out of homelessness struggle with:
 - Housing stability
 - Financial literacy and budgeting
 - Employment readiness
 - Accessing support services
 - Building supportive relationships
- Lack of guidance and preparation can lead to long-term financial instability and housing insecurity.

Our Solution

Adulting Simulation

- Interactive game that teaches real-life decision-making
- Practice:
 - Budgeting
 - Housing choices
 - Employment challenges
 - Grocery shopping
 - Emergency situations

Mentorship Program

- One-on-one mentorship with trained mentors.
- Specialized mentors for:
 - LGBTQ+ youth
 - Indigenous youth
 - Other marginalized groups

Community Hub

- Welcoming environment beyond home and work/school
- Encourages belonging, peer support, workshops, and community engagement
- Helps build lasting support networks.

The Impact

- ✓ Increased financial literacy
- ✓ Improved employment readiness
- ✓ Greater housing stability
- ✓ Stronger support networks
- ✓ Increased confidence and independence

Visit Your Third Space's Website

Why It Matters

Research shows that youth need more than housing, they need:

- Practical life skills
- Financial literacy
- Supportive adult relationships
- Access to community resources
- Opportunities to build confidence through experience